

OUTWITTED BY PATROLMAN,

Whose Vote He Contested, Challenger
Slashed Him With a Knife.

Lexington, Ky.—Patrolman Adolph Meyers was attacked with a knife by J. Ira Bright, a ward politician, and was seriously wounded in the neck. Meyers is a native of Germany, who has been a resident of Lexington for more than a quarter of a century. Bright is a comparatively recent comer to this city. At the election Bright challenged Meyers' vote. The election officers, who knew Meyers, were satisfied to let him vote, but Bright persisted, and Meyers produced his papers. He then told Bright never to speak to him again.

Later Bright saw Meyers and brought up the election day affair. Meyers told him to go away, whereupon Bright slashed Meyers twice in the throat with a pocket knife. Bright was arrested.

WOMAN THE LEADER

In Shooting Affray at Jackson, Recalling Fiercest Feud Days.

Jackson, Ky.—Not even in the fiercest of feud days was this town ever so badly shot up as Tuesday night. The disturbance was not confined to any one part of the city. Five shots were fired into the ice plant and two bullets struck the residence of M. Forbs. The glass front of Samuel E. Patton's store was demolished and a pistol ball was imbedded in the window sill of the home of James Lanter. A woman named Sugar Fouch was in the melee, and shot under the feet of some of the citizens who undertook to remonstrate with her. The people on Broadway kept in their houses, with darkened windows.

Hunting Discouraged By Farmers.

Louisville, Ky.—To protest against an invasion of the state, and particularly of Jefferson county, after the game season opens, farmers of this section met in mass meeting. The game laws go into effect November 15, and the soil tillers fear that drooping cartridges and powder may set underbrush afire. They will seek to have laws passed making carefulness with fire imperative or putting restriction on hunting in underbrush.

Family Escapes Cremation.

Frankfort, Ky.—Smoke blowing through the room in which Robert Reardon was sleeping awoke him in the early morning in time to prevent his family of 10 from being cremated. He gave the alarm to members of the family, and when they had put out the fire they found a pile of burned straw against the house that had been taken from a stack in the neighborhood.

Kentucky Towns Endangered.

Mayfield, Ky.—Miles of creek bottom near Boaz, north of here, are on fire. Every available man is fighting to keep the flames from entering that town, which has a population of more than 300 persons. The fire is only a short distance away, and the town is in grave danger. Fires are also sweeping over Clark river bottom, and the town of Kaler is in its pathway.

Reversal of Award of Damages.

Frankfort, Ky.—The court of appeals reversed the case of the Louisville Railway Co. vs. R. E. Buckner's administrator, and ordered a new trial, because the judge gave an erroneous instruction to the jury. Buckner was a street-sweeper in Louisville, and was run over and killed by a street car. Judgment for $2,500 was awarded.

The commission has mapped out at itinerary covering the entire country, and the next ten days will be spent in the South.

ONE YEAR FOR SIX CENTS.

Mail Collector Heavily Sentenced By United States Judge.

Newport, Ky.—One year in jail was the sentence imposed upon former Mail Collector James Taylor, of Newport, by Federal Judge A. M. J. Cochran.

Taylor stole six cents from a mail box, which had been left in the receptacle by some person who did not have the stamps handy for his letters and who trusted the carrier to purchase the necessary stamps.

The statutory penalty for any offense against the postal regulations is very severe, and while Judge Cochran's sentence of a year in the Newport jail seems like a heavy dose, in reality it is light, as compared with what might have been imposed.

As it is, Taylor will have to serve 65 days in jail for each cent he stole from the mail box.

RETURN OF TAYLOR

From Indiana to Kentucky Planned By Court Official.

Frankfort, Ky.—Gov. Willson will likely have to show his hand in the Taylor-Finley indictments in a short time, for Arthur Goebel and Commonwealth's Attorney Robert Franklin held a conference here, and it is understood will ask for a requisition on the governor of Indiana for them.

Gov. Willson made a statement a month ago that he desired the indictments taken up and tried or got off the docket by the first of the year. If the requisition is honored it is certain that the governor will demand that the prisoners be given bail, or he will probably not ask for it.

Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin will not consent to bail, but says they must be treated like other prisoners charged with murder.

Governor To Entertain Justice Harlan.

Frankfort, Ky.—Justice John M. Harlan and wife, of Washington, D. C., will be the guests of Gov. and Mrs. Willson Thanksgiving, and for the first time since Gov. Willson became chief executive the mansion will be the scene of a social function. Justice Harlan and Gov. Willson were formerly law partners.

Lexington, Ky.—Leslie Combs, United States minister to Peru, and Daniel Swiger, a Fayette county farmer and turpinner, were made defendants in an attachment suit by the Lexington City National bank on promissory notes for $16,000, given in 1895 and 1896, with credit of $2,000.

A Costly Spark.

Lexington, Ky.—Sparks from a locomotive ignited grass on the farm of John F. Price, on the Leestown road, and before men could beat out the flames with gunny sacks, 25 acres of grass on the Price farm and 15 acres on the farm of Z. T. Smiley had been burned over.

Justice Harlan To Visit Gov. Willson.

Frankfort, Ky.—Justice John M. Harlan will be the recipient of many social honors when he visits this city as the guest of Gov. Willson on Thanksgiving. He will be given a banquet by the judges of the court of appeals, and another by the Louisville Bar association.

Negroes Heeded a Warning.

Glasgow, Ky.—Negroes employed at a stove mill at McFarland, Monroe county, who had been brought from Tennessee, were warned by notices to quit work and leave at once. They left at once for their homes in Tennessee.

Big Whisky Fire.

Louisville, Ky.—Whisky valued at $125,000 and buildings worth $15,000 were destroyed by a fire at Dealville, in Nelson county. Two warehouses, two stock barns and several minor buildings belonging to the T. W. Samuels Distillery Co. were burned.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR
Cures Colds, Prevents Pneumonia

LET US HAVE PEACE.

Mt. Vernon, Ky., Nov. 7th, 1908.

"The Battle of Ballots" has been fought, the victory won, and so overwhelmingly in favor of "Taft" and what he represents, that there is no room for a squabble, over doubtful states, as was the case in the Hays-Tilden campaign of 1876.

In the defeat of Wm. Jennings Bryan, there is no ground for exultation anywhere. He stands for the noblest type of American citizenship. It does not follow that because he has been defeated any principle of popular government has suffered defeat. On the contrary, the main principle the underlying principle of a government of the people, by the people, for the people, of which he is a staunch exponent, was never more clearly set forth, than in the present campaign. Nor is Mr. Bryan anymore the exponent of that principle than Theodore Roosevelt.

Whether the president-elect William Howard Taft shall be stronger than the leaders in the national assembly opposed to the reforms proposed and set in motion by his predecessor, remains to be seen. Whether or not Wm. H. Taft can cause a revision of the tariff, as he has promised, also remains to be put to the test.

It would be preposterous to suppose that any adjustment of the tariff "up or down" will meet the approval of the extremists on either side, nor that will exactly suit both factions in either side, nor that will reconcile, nor that will exactly suit both factions in either party. There will be difference of opinion on this question, as on every other topic in our national politics, and the honest convictions of the leaders in politics usually formulate these differences, and make them principal elements in national politics and party platforms. Around these "planks" as they are called with the leaders standing on them are waged the political battles fierce and strong and any argument that has any semblance of truth and some that have none are injected into the speeches and campaign literature for all they are worth. So the result is, in almost every election we have a campaign of education, that reaches the humblest, and least informed voter in the country in some measure, while the people who can read and think for themselves, may choose as between the policies of the various parties now represented.

The most remarkable part of the campaign just closed is the fact, of such similarity in the policy outlined in the national platform of the two great parties respectively. Too much space would be required to give in detail the agreement or differences of the two platforms only in a general way to affirm that practically the Democratic platform and Mr. Bryan in his speeches pledged the good faith of the Democratic party to carry out the most important of the reforms begun by the Republican party under McKinley's and Roosevelt's administration. Whether or not the laws pertaining to inter-state commerce, are just and wise remains to be seen. Whether the combination of capital called "Trust" is an unmitigated evil has not been proven. It is not denied, it cannot be successfully denied, that the corporations have enabled the public, to secure better articles, and cheaper, according to quality than was possible in the good old times. It cannot be denied that under the Protective system the United States has become the leading nation in agriculture, manufactures and commerce and a world power, looked up to and respected by every nation on the globe. It does not follow however that the same result might not have been attained in some other way under democratic rule. The progress of the United States since their independence and consolidation into a Federal government, has been onward and upward and if you please, the greatest expansion, as a result of war occurred under a democratic administration and next to the Louisiana purchase, a peaceable transaction, the greatest expansive movement in its history. In closing this subject it may be said that not withstanding the defeat of Mr. Bryan there was no defeat to whatever principle he advocated that was vital to interests of American citizenship.

Since his first campaign great changes have arisen in American politics amounting to a revolution in which the masses led chiefly by President Roosevelt are arrayed against the monopolistic tendencies of various combinations of capital designated by him as "predatory wealth" or the combination of capital in restriction of trade. The department of commerce and labor has been created, and with it the great question of regulating interstate commerce. A question practically new, in our history, no wonder then that men differ in degree, and manner of meeting these great questions affecting the interests of every citizen of the nation. Aside from some half truths circulated, for the purpose of defeating or insuring the election of either the campaign was remarkably free from personal abuse, and vituperation, headed as each ticket was by, grand men, honest men, either of which would make an honorable respectable president of the great and grandest nation on earth. Hurrah! for our free country. God save our presidents. Let us have peace.

HOW IS YOUR DIGESTION.

Mrs. Mary Dowling of No. 228 8th Ave., San Francisco, recommends a remedy for stomach trouble. She says: "Gratitude for the wonderful effect of Electric Bitters in the case of acute indigestion, prompts this testimonial. I am fully convinced that for stomach and liver troubles Electric Bitters is the best remedy on the market to-day." This great tonic and alterative medicine invigorates the system, purifies the blood and is especially helpful in all forms of female weakness. See at Chas. C. Davis' drug store.

THERE is talk in West Virginia to the effect that Senator Elkins will not be returned to the Senate. But the thing that is troubling the Senator is not the election but will the Duke d'Abruzzi have the spunk to defy the Dowager Queen of Italy and marry his daughter whether or no.

SOUTH DAKOTA has voted away a $600,000 annual income and the glory of her divorce courts. Where is the state now that will come to the rescue of the slightly married and reap the reward of gratitude and a full treasury.

FIVE years ago the sales of automobiles amounted to $8,000,000 annually. For the past year they reached the sum of $100,000,000, all of which shows how increasingly eager people are to buy trouble.

NAT GOODWIN, the well known actor, has just married Edna Goodrich. As this is his fourth marriage and he has a record of three divorces it must be admitted that not all women are cowards.

Now that the campaign, the speechmaking, the voting, the congratulations, and the shouting are all over it must give Mr. Taft a bad taste to think of those promises about tariff revision.

A St. Louis woman wants a divorce because her husband has given her only one hat and one dress in twenty years. There is no justice in the courts if she does not win a suit this time.

MR. WILLIAM COREY did not attend his sister's wedding but he sent a check for one hundred thousand dollars. This is the kind of absence that makes the heart grow fonder.

THE gunning season in Maine is scarcely opened and there are nine hunters killed already. It is clear that it is going to be a great season for game.

It must be consoling to Senator Thomas Collier Platt to see that the people believe that it will take a man like Root or Roosevelt to fill his seat.

It is all officially arranged that Mr. Roosevelt will become an editor. How long he will remain satisfied to be heard from but once a month remains to be seen.

A correspondence school would seem better suited to his tastes.

Senator Bradley will, of course be the most influential of the group, but all have agreed to stand together, and applicants without their endorsement will stand little chance of getting any of the pie.

Eight barrels of whisky shipped into town for election brought on the trouble. Although family troubles of long standing played a prominent part.

Farmer Injured in Runaway. Newport, Ky.—Charles Dodswoth, member of the Campbell county Republican executive committee and well-known farmer of the Coldspring district, southeast of here, was seriously injured in a runaway accident near his home. While driving a team what is known as the D. D. team, he started to run away and then almost at the bottom of the hill he was struck a gully in the road. He threw Dodswoth head first to the ground. His collar bone was broken and he was otherwise injured. His condition is serious.

Important Decision. Frankfort, Ky.—In reversing the judgment of the Fayette Circuit Court in the case of Asher Benton against Jacob Benton, of Cincinnati, the Court of Appeals in an opinion by Judge Carroll holds that if a wife or a husband abandons the other, living in different states, the time required by the statute on divorce should be counted notwithstanding service is not secured on the party sued.

Knives and Pistols Were Used. Lexington, Ky.—Word was received here of a clash between feud factions in Standing Rock creek, in Wolfe county, between the Hall and Ashley families, in which two of the Hall boys were shot; one fatally, the other seriously, and one Ashley was fatally stabbed. Two of the combatants were arrested. The halls were armed with knives and the Ashleys with pistols.

Kentuckian Is Stabbed. Owensboro, Ky.—The campaign in Owensboro closed in a blaze of red ink and a sound of martial music. The democrats and republicans held caucus meetings. After the speaking one enthusiastic young man cried: "Hurrah for Taft!" In an instant he received several cuts with a knife and is now lying in a drug store receiving medical attention.

What Would You Do

If three good physicians should pronounce your case hopeless. If they should decide that you could not live longer than six weeks. And if you should get well, after using only $12.00 worth of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine, what would you advise a friend in like condition to do?

"I have to thank you for saving my wife's life two years ago. We had continued with the doctor until the doctor, like the two previous ones, said that nothing could be done for her; that she had better be taken home, and then I thought, probably Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine might help her. I bought a bottle of each and some Nerve and Liver Pills and commenced to give them to her. We soon seen an improvement, and encouraged by this we continued giving the medicine. We gave her eleven bottles in all of the medicine. She takes it occasionally now if she feels the need. I am in the ministry, and have been for 44 years."

C. D. Sutton is soon to open up a line of general merchandise in the old building near the depot. The room will be remodeled and repaired. Cossie, as he is called, is one of our most popular young men, and his ability as a salesman has long since been demonstrated by the valuable service rendered in U. G. Baker's mammoth store where he has been a clerk for several years. We wish him much success.

The reception at Langdon dormitory, Tuesday afternoon and evening, was one of the most enjoyable events of the season. On account of the rain, many were prevented from going, who had intended to be present. After all had had the pleasure of meeting Miss McCord the principal and her splendid corps of teachers, the guests were invited to partake of the delightful refreshment, which had been prepared for the occasion. The people of Mt. Vernon have always felt a very great interest in the success of the Brown Memorial and likewise those interested in it, and that co operative feeling which seems to exist between teachers and patrons, bespeaks a united effort and we believe a glorious success for the school, Miss McCord the principal seems in every particular the one for the place and with a continuance of the hearty support, which she is receiving at the hands of the people in general, the Brown Memorial must flourish.

We believe we clothe more Men and Boys than all other stores in Mt. Vernon.

There is some talk of The Bank of Mt. Vernon purchasing from the Masons the vacant lot on the West side of Fish's store and erecting the first story for a bank building. No definite steps have as yet been taken.

FORMER SENATOR CARMACK KILLED

NOTED EDITOR AND STATESMAN, IS SLAIN IN A THREE-CORNERED STREET DUEL.

CAUSTIC CRITICISM OF PARTY MACHINE IS CAUSE

Son of Col. Duncan B. Cooper, Well-Known Politician, Fired Fatal Shot—Shooting Has Thrown South Into Great Excitement.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 10.—Former United States Senator Edward W. Carmack was shot three times and instantly killed by Robin Cooper, son of Col. Duncan B. Cooper, in a three-cornered duel between father, son and the former senator on Seventh avenue, immediately in front of the Polk flats here, at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Young Cooper was shot in an arm, but was not seriously wounded. The tragedy was the result of editorial attacks which had been made on Col. Cooper in the Tennesseean, edited by Senator Carmack.

The stories of the tragedy are conflicting. One of the tales is that Senator Carmack was walking down the street with Mrs. Charles H. Eastman when he was approached by Col. Cooper and his son, who drew their revolvers as soon as they saw Carmack.

Reports, which have spread broadcast over the town Monday night, are that Senator Carmack stepped behind the woman when he saw the two men approach.

When Carmack stepped out the young man began to fire. Three bullets took effect, two of them under the heart and within an inch of each other, and the third in the neck.

Mr. Carmack had been warned, that Col. Cooper would resent newspaper ridicule if continued, and was armed with a revolver, two chambers of which he emptied.

Mr. Carmack had left his office and was going to his apartments on Seventh avenue. Col. Cooper and son were coming down the avenue. As they approached, Mr. Carmack was talking with Mrs. Eastman. The last words ever spoken by him were to her.

Mrs. Eastman said that when Mr. Carmack was addressed by the Coopers he immediately jumped to one side so as to be clear of her.

"Several shots rang out in rapid succession," said Mrs. Eastman, "and Senator Carmack whirled around and seemed to catch at an electric light pole, but, missing this in his reach, fell in a heap in the gutter just at the edge of the sidewalk. He fell somewhat on his right side, and was lying on his back with his face to the sidewalk. His revolver fell to the side of him, and was picked up and turned over to the police."

Mr. Carmack in all probability was dead when he fell, as three bullets had been fired into his body.

The trouble is one of the results of the recent Democratic gubernatorial primary in which Mr. Carmack was defeated. Mr. Carmack, as editor of The Tennesseean, was very caustic in criticism of what he called the Democratic machine, and had several editorials about Col. Cooper.

FORMER PRESIDENT ADLER.

Of the Wrecked New Orleans Bank, Returns From Honduras.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Nov. 10.—As William A. Adler, former president of the defunct State National bank of New Orleans, walked down the gang plank of the steamer Ellis, when he arrived from Honduras late Monday afternoon, many of his old friends threw their arms around his neck and kissed him on the cheek, and a crowd of several thousand men and women who had gathered to witness his arrival cheered him repeatedly.

Adler is returning to New Orleans in the face of a federal indictment charging that he misappropriated $223,000 of the State bank's funds, and he had no sooner greeted his friends than United States Marshal Lolsel placed him under arrest.

Adler left New Orleans last December on an old freight steamer, the Alps, which he had loaded with a full cargo of provisions from the Adler Wholesale Grocery Co. The affairs of the State National bank were later liquidated and Adler was indicted in the United States court on 74 different counts for misappropriating its funds, while the grocery company went into the hands of receivers.

The Alps was wrecked off the coast of Honduras and Adler narrowly escaped death, but finally got safely ashore. He is said to have recouped his fallen fortunes by means of Honduran mining properties and other ventures.

NEW YORK POSTMASTER SHOT

GUN USER THEN TURNED IT ON HIMSELF AND FALLS DEAD.

Little Daughter of Official Sees Tragedy That Stirred Gotham—Morgan Will Recover.

New York, Nov. 9.—Edward M. Morgan, postmaster of New York city, was shot and fatally wounded by a man who accosted him near his home, at 146th street and Broadway. The assassin, who was identified as Eric H. Mackay, stenographer, then blew out his own brains.

The only theory the police offer for the crime is that Mackay at one time suffered as the result of Postmaster Morgan's investigation of dishonesty in connection with the work of the postal clerks in this city.

Morgan was accompanied by his 12-year-old daughter when he left home, and was wearing the subway entrance when Mackay walked across the street toward him.

"Is this Mr. Morgan?" he asked, and the little girl moved on a few feet.

NEW YORK POSTMASTER SHOT

GUN USER THEN TURNED IT ON HIMSELF AND FALLS DEAD.

Little Daughter of Official Sees Tragedy That Stirred Gotham—Morgan Will Recover.

New York, Nov. 9.—Edward M. Morgan, postmaster of New York city, was shot and fatally wounded by a man who accosted him near his home, at 146th street and Broadway. The assassin, who was identified as Eric H. Mackay, stenographer, then blew out his own brains.

The only theory the police offer for the crime is that Mackay at one time suffered as the result of Postmaster Morgan's investigation of dishonesty in connection with the work of the postal clerks in this city.

Morgan was accompanied by his 12-year-old daughter when he left home, and was wearing the subway entrance when Mackay walked across the street toward him.

"Is this Mr. Morgan?" he asked, and the little girl moved on a few feet.

"Yes, I am Mr. Morgan," she heard her father say, and then she saw Mackay press a pistol against her father's stomach and fire. As the postmaster fell, his assassin placed the gun against his own forehead and blew a hole through the top of his head.

The tragedy was over in a minute. Morgan, unconscious and badly wounded, was at once taken home.

Indications that Mackay had been plotting the murder of Morgan was obtained by a card in his clothing. It was the business card of Hunt, Hill & Betts, attorneys, 165 Broadway, and on it was written in pencil:

"In the event of an accident, please notify the above firm."

He was operated on by Dr. Erdman at 10 o'clock. It was found his intestines had not been perforated by Mackay's bullet, and he is thought to have a good chance for recovery.

GOVERNORS AGAIN TO MEET.

Invitations Again Sent Out By Conservation Committee.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Invitations to a second meeting in Washington of the governors, or their representatives, have been sent out by the national conservation committee. The date announced is December 1, the first general meeting of the commission itself for organization.

At the forthcoming meeting the governors will discuss the work which the national conservation commission has been carrying on during the summer and fall.

The outcome of this work is the first thorough inventory of the nation's natural resources the federal government has ever made. The inventory is now practically complete and most of the summaries on the waters, forests, lands and minerals of the United States have been handed in by the experts who have been steadily working on them for nearly five months.

NOTORIOUS DIVORCE MILL

Of South Dakota Has Been Completely Wiped Out By Vote.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 9.—In the referendum of last Tuesday the people of South Dakota have voted overwhelmingly to end South Dakota's famous divorce mill. After the state canvassing board meets at Pierre the first week of next month and announces officially that the new law has been approved, it will be no longer possible for the discontented wives and husbands of the whole world to come to South Dakota, and, by spending six months, obtain a secret hearing, freedom and the right to engage in more marriages.

The 12 largest counties in the state on the law stands, yes, 15,805; no, 10,189.

The new law provides that the plain in an action for divorce must have been an actual resident in good faith of this state for one year and of the county where an action is commenced for three months preceding the suit.

Thugs Were Busy.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 9.—During Saturday night four persons were found unconscious in the streets of this city, having been knocked in the head by thugs. One of the victims, Charles Baggett, a negro, died. B. L. Owens, a white farmer, had his head cut open. He said a negro struck him and robbed him. The last victim was a negro woman, who was found on East Ninth street with a ghastly cut in the center of her forehead.

Sentenced To Eight Years in Prison.

Denver, Col., Nov. 9.—John E. Gooding, president of the defunct State Bank of Rockyford, Col., was sentenced to serve eight to ten years in state prison. He had been convicted on charges of making unlawful use of the bank's funds and receiving deposits after he knew the bank to be insolvent.

Killed the Shipwrecked.

Amoy, Nov. 9.—The bodies of 78 of the 200 victims of the wreck of the small steamer, which occurred near Tungshan, have been brought here. Some of them were killed while in the water by piratical boatmen, intent on robbery.

Wright's Luck.

Kentucky Feud Was Reopened and Two Didn't Worship.

Lexington, Ky.—The Ross-Angel feud, which raged for several years in Lee county, but which has been smoldering for the past three years, was reopened at Heidelberg, that county, and Ephraim Angel is dead and Harvey Ross is at the point of death, each being the victim of the other.

The men met within sight of a small church, for which both were bound and before the friends were aware of trouble bullets began to fly, and neither was able to reach the house of worship.

Lee county has been free of feud fights for several years, but it is feared the killing will again throw the two factions into a turmoil.

Valuable Property Illegally Held.

Louisville, Ky.—Thirty suits, by which the Louisville school board lays claim to property worth about $500,000 in various parts of the city and county held to be illegally held by corporations, were filed in the circuit court. It is claimed that the defendant corporations have violated the constitution by attempting to hold this property for more than five years when they made no use of it in the discharge of their business.

FIRE HEMMED WOMAN IN.

Mrs. Lohmeyer, Aged and Ill, Rescued After Hard Work.

Newport, Ky.—A fire, which is believed to have been caused by misgawing matches, broke out in the little cottage in the rear of E. G. Lohmeyer's jewelry store, York street, and it was only with the greatest difficulty that his aged mother, who occupied the house, was rescued from the flames.

The fire was discovered in the early morning by a neighbor, who aroused Mrs. Lohmeyer and his family.

When Mr. Lohmeyer and Patrolman Kees went back to rescue Mrs. Lohmeyer, the side of the building was a mass of flames and she was hemmed in her room by the stifling smoke and almost suffocated.

They fought their way to her and lifted her through a window to safety. Mrs. Lohmeyer is past 80 years old.

ON ROAD TO CHURCH

Kentucky Feud Was Reopened and Two Didn't Worship.

Republicans Carry Ninth and Tenth.

Louisville, Ky.—Late returns from the state would indicate that the democratic majority in the Third district is not in excess of 500, while it appears that the Ninth is republican by 500 and the Tenth by 1,000. Ben Johnson's majority in the Fourth will not be as large as at first reported, and an estimate of 10,000 on the entire state is now conceded to the democrats.

Democrats Carried Paducah.

Paducah, Ky.—The entire democratic municipal ticket won easily. The interest in this ticket centered in the offices of jailer and treasurer. The election of a democratic treasurer means a lawsuit to oust the present treasurer, John A. Dorian, a republic.

Defeat of the $100,000 school bond issue probably means the closing of the schools by the first of the year.

To Test Poolroom Law.

Newport, Ky.—A new plan of action to test the new poolroom law was started in the Campbell circuit court by Bernero and Ehrlich, under 55 separate indictments for operating a pool room. They ask the court to set for immediate trial only one of the indictments. Objection was at once raised by the commonwealth.

Government Seizes Goods.

Covington, Ky.—Deputy United States Marshal Emmett Orr and Food and Drug Inspector W. T. Ford, upon an order from the United States court seized 183 cases, each containing two dozen cans of peas, from a wholesale grocer. It is alleged that each can showed a shortage in weight.

Hung Jury.

Covington, Ky.—The hearing of the trial of Samuel Lunsford against the Hatfield Coal Co., in which the plaintiff asked for $1,900 damages, said to have been sustained at the hands of H. C. Hatfield, superintendent of the defendant company, resulted in a hung jury.

Has Leg Amputated.

Cadiz, Ky.—Charles Aldridge, 20 while returning from a party, fell into a hole, broke his neck and his left leg broken near the ankle, and the bone was so badly broken that the limb had to be amputated. His horse became frightened and turned the buggy over.

Not Missing Student.

Lexington, Ky.—A telegram from Russellville, Ky., says that the man held there suspected of being Willis Smith, the student who has been missing for several weeks, admitted he is not the missing boy.

Arraigned on Charge of Murder.

Covington, Ky.—Perlis Simpson, of Harrodsburg, was arraigned before County Judge Stephens in connection with the finding of the headless body of Scipio Noble, of Jackson. He was charged with wilful murder.

A GOOD LINIMENT.

When you need a good reliable liniment try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It has no superior for sprains and swellings. A piece of flannel slightly dampened with pain balm is superior to a plaster for lame back or pains in the side or chest. It also relieves rheumatic pains and makes sleep and rest possible. For sale by Chas. C. Davis.

Nat C. Goodwin, the comedian, and Miss Edna Goodrich, the well-known actress, were married Monday afternoon in Boston at the home of Mrs. Goodwin, the comedian's mother.

DISCLOSES HELL IS FULL.

U. emotional Mr. Hunt R. Manor, nearly frightened stiff out of his wits when the spirit of a mid-dress named "Rita" caused him to record her hair-raising confession on the planchette board held in his unaccustomed hands is now deeply impressed with the occult.

His experience and those of three others, composing a group who gathered about the table, are related in the November number of the Journal of the American Society for Psychical Research Prof. James H. Hyslop, Secretary of the society, and also editor of the publication, says in one of the notes that Mr. Manor for the first time in his life took the planchette and began to move it about so that its pencil foot could leave its tracks on paper.

In doing so Mr. Manor discovered quite unexpectedly, skeptic as he was, that he had the gift of automatic writing. The sittings took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace L. Cowper, in a New Jersey town, the name of which is withheld for the present. Several hours had passed with experiments, and the amateur was pleased, and interested, although somewhat fatigued, when the question was asked of the spirit: "Won't you tell us who you are?"

"Rita, Rita," was the instant reply, as the planchette began to ravel about in an agitated manner. "We are all in hell—hell—hell. Hell is full!"

When one of the sitters inquired if there was any thing that could be done to aid the unfortunate spirit, the board again showed signs of excitement.

"It will take a long time" was the reply, "to wipe my child's blood from my hands."

Asked by one of the sisters if any help could be given, the spirit answered in the negative.

"You starved me and killed my child" was the response, "but I will get light."

All four of the experimenters by this time were deeply agitated.

"Mr. Manor himself, to quote the account, who is a singularly robust man, confessed to cold chills running up and down his spinal column. A normal, healthy child, who was soundly sleeping in a room above, woke up screaming loudly."

All the company hastily adjourned for the night.

Other tests indicated that the spirits were around and could see, for no sooner had a kitten been placed on the table than the planchette wrote, "Mew, mew, mew!"

PNEUMONIA FOLLOWS A COLD.

but never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar. It stops the cough, heals and strengthens the lungs and prevents pneumonia.

In a feudal war at Campton Junction Ky., caused by election whis-ky and family troubles, Islow Allen was killed and two other men were shot, one perhaps fatally.

A RELIABLE REMEDY FOR CROUP.

With the dry, cold weather of the early winter months, parents of croupy children should be on the alert for ominous symptoms. There is no cause for anxiety, however, when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is kept in the home. If this medicine is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the croupy cough has appeared, the attack may be warded off.
